

Matthew's Success Story: Conclusion

Video Transcription

I hope that you were able to gather all the information you needed from my story. But before you go, I just wanted to say one word of advice is always make sure that you're willing to accept your student or your child with their learning disability. It is the greatest thing that I found to be the biggest help for me is that my parents and my teacher have accepted and allowed me to thrive as a student and as a learner.
