

Comparison Chart

A:

Vs.

B:

Diagram illustrating a comparison chart structure. It features three vertical columns. The first column is light blue and is labeled 'A:' above it. The second column is white and is labeled 'Vs.' above it. The third column is light orange and is labeled 'B:' above it. Arrows indicate the flow of information: a blue arrow points down from 'A:' to the blue column, a blue curved arrow points from the blue column to the white column, an orange curved arrow points from the white column to the orange column, and an orange arrow points down from 'B:' to the orange column.

Notes: